Onyx Signatory is designed to meet the needs of those aiming to be HCP or AQP signatories, those who are signatories wishing to consolidate their knowledge, and those in senior commercial roles looking to expand their skill-set.

Key features of Onyx Signatory

Centred upon principles-based decision making

All our educational programmes are founded on understanding ethical principles, the importance of personal accountability and the process for sound decision making within the context of the ABPI Code of Practice.

This is important for everyone but particularly those making difficult decisions, such as signatories or senior leaders in pharma.

12-months access to education and support

Each user has access to all Onyx Signatory online resources and live webinars for 12 months from enrolment, allowing users to consume content at their own pace and find advice and support when they need it.

Multiformat online resources

People like to consume content in different ways and our content delivery reflects that diversity. It comes in written, audio and video formats and includes self-testing and information summaries.

Onyx Signatory comprises 15 online courses covering all aspects of the ABPI Code of Practice in detail, as well as practical ethical theory and its use in decision making.

The online courses (each with an aligned live webinar) are as follows:

1. Key concepts in ethics, compliance and decision making
2. The ABPI Code of Practice
3. Promotion of medicines
4. Marketing authorisation and pre-licence activity
5. Communicating about medicines
6. Promotional roles, channels and interactions
7. Education, meetings and hospitality
8. Scientific exchange and the medical role
9. Insight and advice seeking
10. Transferring value and supporting healthcare
11. Supporting and interacting with patients and patient organisations
12. Interactions with the public, the media and social media
13. Government affairs, policy work and market access
14. Other relevant regulations
15. Signatory skills

Live interactive webinars

Onyx Signatory users have access to fifteen 90-minute live webinars, each one aligned to an online course and all accessed through the Onyx platform. Each webinar is repeated several times each year to maximise user opportunity to participate.

Monthly drop-in webinars allow Onyx Signatory users to bring practical conundrums and questions (suitably anonymised) to a live forum for discussion and learning.

Continually updated with new Code case summaries, news and opinion

New content is added to Onyx Signatory every month and materials are updated in line with any new guidance and changes to the ABPI or EFPIA Codes.

Users have access to a Code case library of downloadable PowerPoint presentations and a news and opinion section including articles and reviews of recent Code cases.

Full user metrics and completion certificates

Companies signing up multiple users to the Onyx platform can be provided with manager access to view and download progress reports and records of learning completion.

Upon completion of the online programme users can download a completion certificate.
